

Aanmitaagzi with Spider Woman Theatre presents: Pulling Threads, A series of Fabric Workshops as part of Material Witness.

Material Witness is a play that explores violence, healing and renewal in the lives of Indigenous women. The set is a “story-quilt”, a layered landscape of fabrics, of heaps, piles and bundles that holds stories and supports the stories of the women on stage. Each person in the workshop will build a layered piece of the “story-quilt” – her story will be the essence of the piece that she creates. This piece will be sewn/woven into the larger quilt and will travel with the production wherever it goes.

LOCATIONS / TIMES:

Tuesday April 19, 7-10 pm

Big Medicine Studio, 161 Couchie Memorial Dr.

Thursday April 21, 7-10 pm

Big Medicine Studio, 161 Couchie Memorial Dr.

Friday April 22, 10-4 pm Fabric Workshop

Temagami (Venue TBA)

We provide the fabric and the accessories.

Please bring your own fabric if you wish to donate a personal piece.

Come and enjoy some food, some talk and some laughter!

For all media inquiries or for any inquiries please contact:

Sid Bobb / (705)474-2227 / bobbsid@hotmail.com / www.aanmitaagzi.net